U.N. Will Move Into Gaza

Arab Envoys Skeptical Of Israel Plan

Dulles Tells Nine Leaders In Talks, 'No Promises Made'

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—The United States tried today to convince the skeptical Arab world it made "no promises or concessions whatsoever" to win Israeli withdrawal from two Middle East hot spots.

It was important to Arab acceptance of President Eisenhower's Middle East resolution that this idea be put across. But nine Arab envoys who talked it over with Secretary of State Dulles for an hour made no commitments—they told reporters afterward they would "wait and see."

The diplomats represent Egypt, Iraq, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Saudi Arabia, Sudan, Syria and Yemen.

Puts Out Statement

The State Department put out a statement reporting what Dulles told them. The statement was issued a few minutes after Israel's Foreign Minister Golda Meir rose in the United Nations General Assembly and announced Israel was ready to withdraw her troops from Gaza and Sharm el Sheikh.

Technically, Mrs. Meir did not attach any conditions to her withdrawal announcement, but she stated certain "assumptions" which she indicated would weigh heavily in Israeli negotiations with U. N. officials on details of the withdrawal from the areas.

Thus, although the deadlock seemed broken, a settlement was by no means assured. This still hinged on Egyptian agreement, tacit or otherwise, to waive its right under the Palestine truce to reoccupy Gaza.

Mrs. Meir called for immediate talks with the U. N. Emergency Force chief, Canadian Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns. She said Gaza should be occupied "exclusively" by U. N. troops when the Israelis get out.

Anxious For Break

Presumably, however, Egypt and the other Arab states are anxious by this time to break the painful economic paralysis caused by the deadlock and will go along with keeping Egyptian troops out of Gaza.

Mrs. Meir's other "assumptions" included 1. U. N. troops to be stationed in Sharm el Sheikh, 2. President Eisenhower's assurances of Feb. 20 to be carried out and 3. Israel always has the right to defend itself against border raids from Gaza or any Egyptian attempt to blockade Israeli shipping again in the Gulf of Aqaba.

Eisenhower's Middle East proposal, to block Communist expansion in the Middle East through a military-economic aid program, is having rough weather in the Senate. Nevertheless, officials are confident it will survive and go into effect before long.

Two Avalanches Kill Five Skiers

INNSBRUCK, Austria, March 1 (AP)—Two huge avalanches in the Austrian province of Vorarlberg killed five skiers and injured seven others today. The massive snowslides occurred at winter resorts only about 10 miles apart.

The deaths brought to 13 the number killed by avalanches in Austria this season.

Factory Roof Collapses, Three Firemen Are Killed

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—The roof of a burning factory collapsed today, killing three firemen and injuring two.

Two of the dead were Fire Department officials who had entered the flaming shortening plant of the Lawrence Corp. at 527 W. 41st St., on the South Side to order other firefighters out because of a dangerous heat buildup.

The dead were Howard Strohecker, 48, acting marshal of the 4th Division; George L. Donovan, 41, captain of Engine Co. 29; and

Stassen Placed Under Wing Of Secretary Dulles

RESIGNS—Charles E. Stassen resigned yesterday as Secretary of the Navy. The resignation, accepted by President Eisenhower, becomes effective on April 1. (AP Photofax).

Thomas Resigns Secretary Of Navy Position

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Charles S. Thomas resigned as secretary of the Navy today and President Eisenhower nominated Undersecretary Thomas S. Gates Jr. to succeed him.

Gates, a Philadelphia Republican who will be 51 on April 10, succeeded Thomas three years ago as undersecretary. Both men are investment bankers by profession.

In an exchange of letters made public by the White House, Thomas, 59, gave no specific reason for his resignation, which is effective April 1 and which Eisenhower accepted with "very real regret."

The retiring secretary told reporters he resigned "purposely so as to give recognition" to his assistants and give them a chance to move up.

Even before Gates' promotion was announced, Sen. Martin (R-Pa.) issued a statement saying Pennsylvania is "pleased and proud." Martin said Gates "has proven his enormous competence" while serving as undersecretary.

It confirmed by the Senate, Gates' salary will go up from $18,000 to $20,000 a year. He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, of which his father formerly was president, and a Navy veteran of World War II.

Thomas said he has no plans for the near future except to take a vacation.

"I just want to get up some morning and have no commitment to meet," he said. In his letter to Eisenhower, Thomas said:

"I feel that I am leaving the Navy Department well organized and in a high state of morale and it is therefore a propitious time for me to turn these arduous duties over to someone else."

He added that the Navy's "superb" military leadership is composed of "loyal, trained and disciplined men upon whom you can rely without reservation."

Sylvester L. Pietrowski, 33, member of an engine company crew.

Fireman Edward Hoyt, 41, was critically injured, and Thomas McCauley, an engine company driver, was hurt less seriously.

The fire was concentrated in a two-story portion of the building, about two thirds of which was one-story high. It was the roof over this loft which collapsed with such sudden force that an explosion was reported.

Later, Second Deputy Fire Marshal John Thielman said the upper story shattered when one of four joists holding the roof burned through. Upper portions of the back and side walls of this section collapsed.

Thielman fixed damage at $20,000.

The cause of the fire was not determined. Thielman said that apparently it had burned for some time before it was discovered by Herman Hopel, 31, a chemist, who saw smoke rising from the roof when he went out into the factory yard.

The plant manager, Lawrence Rosenberg, 26, said about a dozen persons who were working in the factory escaped unhurt.

Disarmament Office Moved To State Dept.

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—President Eisenhower today gave Secretary of State Dulles direct control over the activities of Harold E. Stassen, presidential disarmament aide for the last two years.

Under the change, effective immediately, Stassen will operate under the policy guidance of Dulles and report directly to the State Department head instead of to Eisenhower.

Stassen's office also will be physically moved to the State Department from its present location across the street from the White House. The former Minnesota governor will remain on the White House payroll, however, at $22,500 a year and retain his title as special assistant to the President on disarmament matters.

Change Announced

The change was announced to reporters by Dulles and Stassen after they had conferred with Eisenhower. Its principal effect will be to give Dulles firmer control in the disarmament field and short-circuit Stassen's direct access to the President on such matters.

The shift came on the heels of reports that Dulles was not satisfied with the way Stassen's office was functioning—that it in effect has been a foreign policy function removed from the State Department.

Dulles said the transfer means "no change" in Stassen's title, but that hereafter Stassen will report to him instead of to the President and will be under State Department policy supervision. He also said the shift will not change Stassen's status as chairman of the U. S. delegation to the United Nations Disarmament subcommittee meeting starting in London March 18.

Stassen denied reports that he intends to resign after the London conference. But he would not say whether he would quit later to run for the GOP nomination for governor in his adopted state of Pennsylvania in 1958, a step he said to have under consideration despite strong opposition in the Keystone State.

Nixon Begins Good Will African Tour

Moroccan Crowds Cheer United States Vice President

RABAT, Morocco, March 1 (AP)—Vice President Nixon launched his friends-making tour of Africa today with old-fashioned American campaign methods, pumping hands and questioning Arab youngsters.

Hundreds of thousands responded lustily with cheers in English, French and Arabic. There were cries of "Nixon, Nixon" "Long Live America" and another chant in Arabic which sounded like "Long Live the King."

A Moroccan official explained that many in the crowd were accustomed to cheering royalty, and automatically assumed that Nixon must be at least a king.

Berber tribesmen who lined a part of the route from the airport to the city fired rifles and waved.

Accompanied By Wife

The vice president, accompanied by his wife and nine aides, arrived at Sale-Rabat Airport for the start of a 22-day, 18,000-mile tour intended to demonstrate the United States' interest in the African continent and its growing number of independent nations.

Beside his chief stop on the Gold Coast, which becomes the independent British Commonwealth nation of Ghana next week, he plans visits to Liberia, Uganda, Ethiopia, Sudan and Libya.

•Crown Prince Moulay Hassan, the eldest son of Sultan Mohammed V; Premier Mohammed Bekkai; red-haired Princess Lalla Aicha, eldest daughter of the Sultan; and U. S. Ambassador Cawendish Cannon extended an airport welcome. A colorful Moroccan guard of soldiers in green berets was drawn up for the ceremony.

The Sultan had postponed a trip to the hospital for a hernia operation in order to entertain his American guest. It was likely the Sultan would mention Moroccan desires for immediate American dollar aid, as well as technical assistance in getting some long-range economic projects started.

Will Discuss Air Bases

From the American side it was likely the delicate status of five huge air and naval bases in Morocco would come up. These bases costing 400 million dollars or more to build, were granted by the French in 1950 without asking permission from the Moroccans. Now that the Moroccans' independence has been recognized with termination of the French protectorate, the Moroccans think the question of an extension should be negotiated.

These bases are capable of handling the biggest strategic bombers and it is likely that Nixon will visit one of them at Nouasseur during his stay here of a little over 24 hours.

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler and "silent partner" in a rival pinball outfit, testified yesterday that Terry told him he had paid Brewster "$10,000 or more" early in 1955 to regain his membership in the Teamsters Union and eliminate the threat of having his pinball machines picketed.

The investigating senators have developed evidence that Terry had 200 or 300 pinball machines operating in Portland and that unless they carried Teamsters Union stickers he was in trouble.

Witnesses have related that the Teamsters would picket taverns and other places with "nonunion" machines, thus halting deliveries of beer, bread and other supplies.

Terry, perspiring freely under his interrogation, also denied telling William Capri, part owner of the Flamingo Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., that he would "take care" of Hy Goldbaum if Goldbaum could fix things with Brewster.

Brewster heads the 11-state Western Conference of Teamsters. Goldbaum has been identified by the committee as a gambler and a friend of Brewster's.

Mrs. Katherine Byron Injured In Mishap

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—Mrs. Katherine E. Byron, 54, former congress member from Maryland, suffered a fracture of the right leg last night in an unusual accident in which she was struck by her own car.

This was the account given by police.

Mrs. Byron stopped her car to discharge a passenger. Among those riding with her was Mrs. Mary Harley, 79. Mrs. Byron got out the left side. Mrs. Harley, in moving from the center of the seat to the left side, apparently touched the automatic shift lever and accidentally struck the gas pedal. The car lurched backward and Mrs. Byron was struck by the open door.

Pinball Tycoon Denies $10,000 Protection Paid

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—A Portland, Ore., pinball tycoon swore today he never paid $10,000 in protection money to Frank W. Brewster, West Coast boss of the Teamsters Union.

"I never gave him anything," Stanley G. Terry told a special Senate committee investigating alleged racketeering.

"I'm here under oath. I say I did not."

Asked by Robert F. Kennedy, committee counsel, whether he had ever told anybody he had paid off to Brewster, Terry commented that "sometimes things are said in jest." But then he added "it's not possible" that he made any such remark, even in jest.

James B. Elkins, Portland gambler and "silent partner" in a rival pinball outfit, testified yesterday that Terry told him he had paid Brewster "$10,000 or more" early in 1955 to regain his membership in the Teamsters Union and eliminate the threat of having his pinball machines picketed.

Bedwell Murder Charges Dropped

CHICAGO, March 1 (AP)—State's Atty. Benjamin Adamowski announced today he will ask Monday that murder charges against 21-year-old Edward (Benny) Bedwell in the case of the slain Grimes sisters be dropped. Bedwell formerly lived in Paris, Tenn.

The charges were based upon Bedwell's statement, later recanted, that he and another man killed the girls on Jan. 13 after a week of debauching them on skid row. The girls, Barbara 15, and Patricia, 13, disappeared Dec. 28 after attending a movie. Their bodies were found Jan. 22 beside a little-traveled road southwest of Chicago.

Lezama Becomes Uruguay President

LONDON, March 1 (AP)—Moscow radio today carried a denial by "competent Soviet organizations" of reports that a secret Soviet air base had been built in Syria.

The denial was made through the Tass news agency, which said there had been British press reports that Russian engineers and technicians built the secret base in Syria.

Eddie Fisher, Show Queen Are Dunked

PHILADELPHIA, March 1 (AP)—Singer Eddie Fisher went swimming unexpectedly today at Philadelphia's sportsmen's show.

Fisher was on hand for the show's opening ceremony. He mounted the rim of a 50,000-gallon tank used for a casting exhibition.

Standing beside him was the show queen, Miss Rebecca Cochenet of Philadelphia. Miss Cochenet lost her balance and clutched Fisher. Both the beauty and the singer fell into the tank, filled to a four-foot depth.

Fisher got to his feet and helped Miss Cochenet climb out of the tank, then scrambled to a dry spot himself. He was taken to a dressing room to replace his dripping clothes.

Couple Leaves Young Child

BALTIMORE, March 1 (AP)—A 3-month-old blue-eyed blonde baby girl abandoned in a Baltimore corset shop today by a young couple, has been turned over to police who are checking with Buffalo, N. Y., authorities.

A note found under two flannel blankets wrapped around the infant read: "Please have her sent to either Mrs. Mildred Romano, 501 N. Oak St., Buffalo, N. Y., or Mrs. Betty Liberaki, 344 Linden Ave., Buffalo, N. Y."

The shop proprietors, Miss Julia Kelly and Miss Mary Monaghan, told police a couple in their early 20's, well dressed and well spoken, entered the store about 9:30 a.m. They asked the women to watch the child while they found a place they could prepare the baby's formula.

When the couple failed to return, Miss Kelly said, she and Miss Monaghan found the note attached to the baby's thin cotton dress.

Israel Party Orders Protest Demonstration

TEL AVIV, Israel, March 1 (AP)—The right-wing Herut—Freedom party called tonight for nationwide demonstrations tomorrow against Israel's decision to withdraw from the Gaza Strip and Gulf of Aqaba positions.

The Herut party is the second largest in Israel and the major opposition party.

It has been demanding that Israel keep control of the Gaza Strip and Aqaba areas.

Herut party members in Jerusalem, Tel Aviv and the big port of Haifa were ordered to protest that Israeli security and freedom of shipping were not guaranteed in the agreement to withdraw.

Herut members hold only 15 of the 120 seats in the Knesset (Parliament). The party is not represented in Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion's coalition Cabinet.

Herut is an outgrowth of the Irgun Zvai Leumi, an organization of underground fighters against British mandate rule over Palestine before establishment of the state of Israel on May 14-15, 1948.

Herut is the second minority party in revolt against the decision.

Leaders of the leftist Socialist Achdut Avoda (Labor Unity) party, third largest in the coalition cabinet, have renewed their threat to withdraw their two ministers from the five-party cabinet. Achdut Avoda has scheduled a party meeting for Sunday to decide whether to resign from Ben-Gurion's government.

The government of Israel is now in a position to announce its plans for full and prompt withdrawal from the Sharm el Sheikh area and the Gaza Strip, in compliance with resolution No. 1 of Feb. 2, 1957.

That resolution was approved by the Assembly 74-2. Only France and Israel voted against it. It was (Continued on Page 2; Col. 4)

Israel Plans To Withdraw From Strip

Demands Of Ike, Assembly Are Met; Action Is Hailed

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., March 1 (AP)—The United Nations moved tonight to post its police forces in the Gaza Strip and along the Gulf of Aqaba as Israeli forces leave under the agreement announced today.

The Israeli decision, forecast last night by its U. N. delegation, was put before the U. N. General Assembly by Foreign Minister Golda Meir.

The effect is to return Israeli soldiers to the positions they occupied before last October's invasion of Egypt—behind the 1949 armistice lines.

By withdrawing, Israel meets the demands of both the U. N. and President Eisenhower—and escapes the possibility of the punitive sanctions proposed by Arab neighbors in the U. N.

Warns Against Violence

Mrs. Meir warned that Israel will fight back if violence flares up against Israeli shipping or Israeli territory—and appealed to the Arabs to work with Israel for development of the Middle East. She enumerated steps that Israel understood would take place with the withdrawal, but did not class these as conditions.

U. S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge hailed the Israeli action as a turning point in affairs

Navy Seeking Recruits For Nuclear Field

A new enlistment program for the Navy was announced yesterday by Chief Louis W. Knott, petty officer in charge of the local Navy recruiting station. The program applies to high school graduates interested in the nuclear field.

The Navy's High School graduate Training Program which has been in effect for some time has been revised to incorporate changes which provide for the direct procurement from civilian sources of candidates for training in the nuclear field, Chief Knott explained.

A young man accepted for this program, after completing recruit training, will be first sent to one of nine schools applicable to nuclear power (all basic electronics, engineering and electrical schools). Upon successful completion of this first school, the graduate will be assigned to an additional period of training of approximately one year in nuclear science, and upon successfully completing this advanced training will be assigned to duties involving nuclear power.

Initially, the majority of young men enlisted in the program will be assigned to the submarine phase. They will be required to volunteer for submarine duty and meet the submarine physical requirements. The numbers of men assigned to the surface ship phase will gradually increase as the nuclear program expands.

A high school graduate accepted into this nuclear field program will be required to serve six years from date of enlistment. High school graduates interested in the field of nuclear power may receive full details of this new program from the local recruiter located in room 306, Post Office Building.

Mrs. Shirley Smith Dies As Auto Strikes Tree

A 26-year-old woman was fatally injured yesterday morning in a highway accident on U. S. Route 220 opposite the swimming pool at the Amelle plant of the Celanese Corporation.

The victim, Mrs. Shirley Jean Smith of RD 5, Winchester Road, was en route to Cumberland where she was to have reported for her first day of work at the Cumberland Office Supply Company.

Tfc. Joseph Stakem of the State Police barracks at LaVale, who investigated, said the fatal accident occurred around 7 a. m. at a point two-tenths of a mile north of Cresaptown.

Mrs. Smith was traveling alone, Tfc. Stakem said, and apparently lost control of her vehicle on the wet and slushy road. The 1950 two-door sedan ran off the right side of the road, turned around and then crashed into a tree. The force of the impact knocked Mrs. Smith's shoes off and she was thrown from the car. Death was instantaneous, due to a broken neck, according to Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner.

The victim had been living with her two young children in an apartment in the foundation of a home on Winchester Road. At the time of the accident her children, six-year-old Jane Ann Smith and seven-year-old James Smith, were being watched by a neighbor until it was time for a school bus to come along.

Mrs. Smith attended Virginia Avenue School and was graduated in 1949 from Fort Hill High School. She had previously worked at the Amelle plant and of Swift's, having left the latter employment in August of last year.

William A. Wilson, an official of the Cumberland Office Supply Company, said Mrs. Smith had originally been hired to report for work on next Monday. However, when the girl she was to have replaced reported off sick, he contacted Mrs. Smith and asked her to come to work yesterday at 7:30 a. m.

Born September 11, 1930, Mrs. Smith was a daughter of Arlie J.

MRS. SHIRLEY J. SMITH

and Mildred Martin, this city. She held membership in the Methodist Church.

Surviving besides her children and parents, are her husband, James Francis Smith, city; two brothers, A. James Martin, Baltimore, and Donald L. Martin, city; and three sisters, Mrs. Rosemary Stotler, Baltimore; Mrs. Betty Jane Lee, Hagerstown, and Miss Carol Jean Martin, this city. The body will be at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

Funeral services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at the funeral home with Rev. Kenneth W. Grove, pastor of Emmanuel Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Sunset Memorial Park.

Woman Unhurt When Struck By Automobile

Mrs. Bessie Beier, 63, escaped injury Thursday night when she was struck by an automobile in front of her home, 109 Greene Street.

It was reported that Mrs. Beier was putting up her umbrella and failed to see the oncoming car driven by August V. Robey of 10 South Street.

Mrs. Beier was treated and released at Memorial Hospital. No charges have been placed against Mr. Robey.

Admitted to Memorial Hospital Thursday night was Mrs. Blanch Cardell, 68, of 730 Bedford Street, who sustained a dislocated shoulder in a fall at her home.

Four Punished Children Die As House Burns

MILWAUKEE, March 1 (AP)—Four small children who had been beaten and sent to bed for playing with fire died today barely an hour later as flames burst through the room where they had been ordered for punishment.

Thirty-two-year-old Milton Bartelson, father of the four, dashed to safety down a stairs after he awakened from a nap in the same room to find "fire all around me."

He tried to re-enter the blazing two-story frame building but was driven back by flames, and later tried to crawl up a ladder and get through a window, but was restrained by firemen.

The victims—only children of Bartelson and his 22-year-old wife, Mrs. Vera Ann, 6, Milton Jr., 3, Jeffrey, 2, and Glenn Ford, 1.

Six firemen and a police officer were overcome by smoke while trying to reach the children.

Also escaping the blaze was the maternal grandmother of the children, Mrs. Vera Brumfield, who owned the residence and occupied the lower floor.

Mrs. Brumfield, 40, told the story of the punishment for playing with matches. Deputy State Fire Marshal Joseph Farrar and Mrs. Brumfield told him her son-in-law, who is unemployed, took his wife to the hospital where she is employed as a cleaning woman. When he returned home several hours later, he found the youngsters burning small scraps of paper and had set a basket of clothing afire.

Bartelson took the smoldering basket outdoors, then returned to the upper flat to punish the children.

the sixth call by the Assembly since last November for Israel to leave Egypt and the Gaza Strip.

Mrs. Meir said it is generally recognized that the function of the UNEF in the Straits of Tiran area of the Gulf of Aqaba "includes the prevention of belligerent acts."

Mrs. Meir said that interference by armed force with Israeli ships in the Gulf of Aqaba and the Straits of Tiran will be regarded by Israel as an attack entitling Israel to take measures of self-defense.

Assembly Adjourns

After the Assembly adjourned, a spokesman for the Israeli delegation told newsmen, "You may have noticed that Israel is giving up the Gaza Strip to the United Nations and not to Egypt."

Israel has insisted the Gaza Strip must not return to Egypt. But Hammarskjold has taken the position the armistice is binding and cannot be changed without agreement of Israel and Egypt.

Lodge told the Assembly the United States feels the future of the Gaza Strip must be worked out within the framework of the armistice agreement. He expressed hope the U.N. can play a useful role in the Gaza Strip until there is a final settlement.

Election Law Changes Bill Said "Tough"

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP)—A "tough" bill to revamp the election laws was offered today by Sen. Gore (D-Tenn.). Among other things it would limit any individual's total political contributions to $1,000 a year.

Gore called it a tough bill, but said it was necessary because present laws permit a situation which "constitutes a threat to government truly representative of public will."

Gore was chairman of a Senate subcommittee which reported that known political spending last year was $33,185,725, and that the actual spending "far surpassed that figure."

Under the present law there are limits on what a political committee may spend, but these are no real curbs because there is no limit on the number of committees which can back a candidate or party.

Under the Gore bill, a president-elect ticket would be limited to spending 20 cents multiplied by the number of popular votes in the preceding presidential election. This would mean that such a ticket in 1960 could spend something over 12 million dollars since the 1956 vote total was a little over 62 million. Half this total could be spent by national committees and half by state and local committees.

Spending limits also would be clamped on primaries, an area in which federal law does not apply now. A national committee backing would-be nominees for president and vice president could spend half the amount it would be allowed to lay out in a general election.

Under present law an individual can contribute $5,000 each to any number of political committees. The proposed new law would limit an individual to giving $1,000 in any year to all candidates for federal office.

The maximum on spending by candidates for Congress would be 10 cents multiplied by the number of votes in the preceding election for the office, but the limit would not be less than $50,000 in a statewide race or $12,500 in a congressional district.

Civinettes Discuss Compiling Recipes

The Civinette Club discussed a new project for the next couple months at the meeting Thursday evening at Central YMCA, which was conducted by Mrs. Helen Walburn. Tentative plans are being considered to compile a favorite recipe book.

A contribution was made to the Red Cross and it was decided to hold the next meeting in the form of a dinner. It is to be March 28 with Mrs. Constance McIntosh, vice president, in charge.

Preceding the business session a household demonstration was given by Mrs. Mabel Zimmerman.

Others attending were Mrs. Roseann Blake, Mrs. Dorothy Dove, Mrs. Pauline Wenner, Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Mary June Minke, Mrs. Mary Margaret Rown, Mrs. Elsie Nave and a guest, Mrs. Mary Lewis.

Bride-Elect Entertained

Mrs. George Stotler entertained with a pre-nuptial party and personal shower in compliment to Miss Mary Neff, at the former's home, Bedford Road.

The marriage of Miss Neff, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Neff, Lonaconing, to Louis Quisenberry, Irving, Texas, son of Mrs. Alice Quisenberry, and the late T. R. Quisenberry, will be performed March 23 in the First Methodist Church, Lonaconing. The bride-elect is employed at Rosenbaum's Store.

Bridal and rainbow themes were combined in the decorations and a shower cake centered the table. Guests were Mrs. Helen Mauk, Mrs. Julia Hotchkiss, Mrs. Sarah Berry, Miss Edith Williams, Miss Mary Fahey, Miss Doris Sonner and Mrs. Myrtle Lee.

Elks Dance Is Tonight

Sandra Recker, the "Walkin' in the Rain Girl" will entertain at the regular Saturday night dance of the Elks Club tonight. The dance, for Elks and their invited guests, will begin at 9:30 with music by Edna Engle and her Foursome. The entertainment will be at 11 o'clock.

The Social Sessions committee is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Dora Perdue, 507 Central Avenue, is a medical patient in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Close Figuring

Backs are more beautiful than ever. They appear more important on every scene from beach to ballroom. The peg-top skirt and low backline look new. Silken fabrics exploit the body beautiful in tubes and in tucked, shirred, and draped in slinky sheaths and say once again it's going to be a slim spring.

Foundation garments will help to give you a completely new figure. Shaping you beautifully, they have been designed to give a high, gently-rounded, feminine bustline and a smooth slim torso. Low backs come in both strap-

Bells Will Mark Day Of Prayer

Ring church bells will be an innovation this year for the observance of the World Day of Prayer, March 8, sponsored by the United Church Women, a department of the National Council of the Churches of Christ. They are to be rung at 10:30 to remind the people that it is the World Day of Prayer; again at 1:30 they will ring for the service at 2 at Emmanuel Episcopal Church. At 7 they will ring again, reminding worshippers of services at 7:30.

Evening services are being held at Potomac Park Evangelical United Brethren Church; South Cumberland First Evangelical United Brethren Church; Ridgeley Evangelical United Brethren Church and LaVale Methodist Church. The LaVale service will be at 8.

The theme for the 71st observance is "Who Shall Separate Us?" It was written by Mrs. Serena Vassady, formerly of Hungary.

Auxiliary Has Social

Mrs. William Mickey, Ridgeley, was welcomed as a new member of the Ladies Auxiliary, 659 of the Carpenters Local Union, at the regular meeting, earlier in the week at the Labor Temple. Mrs. Lewis Twigg presided.

Pictures taken at the January anniversary dinner were shown. Wives, mothers and daughters of carpenters are invited to join the auxiliary.

Following the business session a pie social was held, attended by members of the Carpenters Union and friends.

Final plans for the spring luncheon will be made at the March meeting, which will be held at 7:30 on the 25th at the temple. All members are urged to be present.

Court Cardinal Gibbons, CDA will meet Monday at the Social Center.

5 Societies Conduct Study Class

Five societies participated in a two session study class at the First Evangelical United Brethren Church, Thursday. They were First Society, Vera Blinn Society of World Service of EUB Church; and the women's societies of Bethel, Calvary and Potomac Park EUB churches.

Mrs. E. E. Miller, conference branch secretary of Education, served as moderator for the study book on "The Modern Samaritan," by Clara M. Cook. Mrs. Edgar Shoemaker conducted the devotionals.

Christian Social Action in Politics was presented by the Potomac Park group with the panel consisting of Mrs. Garland Paxton, Mrs. Harry Wright, Mrs. L. L. Shoemaker and Mrs. John Zink.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

That mail box on the city corner . . . that post office at the country crossroads . . . what would we do without them?

Life is too complex for us to live by ourselves. Man's interests and his welfare reach far beyond the boundaries of his community. Communication with people and corporations hundreds of miles away is a part of modern living that we take for granted. We have to "keep in touch."

But long before life became so complex, men discovered their need for another kind of communication—prayer. The courage and faith and hope which steel men for the challenge of each day come from God. The deep spiritual needs of the soul can be supplied only by keeping in touch with God.

We think our mail-boxes are indispensable! Even so, one church means more to a community than all its postal facilities. For not so long ago men lived very happily without a postal system. But men have never lived happily without God!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Death Penalty Is On The Decline

Many European countries and six U. S. states have abolished capital punishment apparently without ill effects, but many persons have the uneasy feeling that its abolition would unleash a rise in serious crimes.

Nevertheless capital punishment, though still on the statute books of 42 states and the federal government, is being used less and less. In the six-year period 1930-35, there were 975 legal executions by civil authorities in the U. S. (The figure does not include executions by the military authorities). This was an average of slightly more than 162 a year. In the six years 1949-54 the annual average was only 89. Last year the figure was 65. Since the population increased by more than one-sixth between 1930 and 1954, the rate of executions compared to population declined more than 50 per cent. Nearly all these executions were for one of two crimes—murder or rape. But all the decrease has been in executions for murder. Executions for rape were 65 in the earlier period, 68 in the later one.

What does this decline in application of the death penalty signify? It probably indicates a growing feeling among judges, lawmakers and the public that the death penalty has a more limited value than it formerly was deemed to have. Where crimes are particularly shocking and arouse strong public emotions, it is still felt by a great many persons that the criminal's life should be taken in retribution. In Colorado, for instance, the only execution last year involved the young man who caused the death of a plane-load of passengers in order to kill his mother and collect accident insurance.

But it seems clear that capital punishment, even without statutory prohibition, is gradually being abandoned in the United States.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

What's Wrong With U.N.

Senator William F. Knowland, having been made a member of the American delegation to the United Nations, has discovered the five major defects of that organization. They are:

- "1. The abuse of the veto power by the Soviet Union.
- "2. A growing 'Double Standard' of international morality.
- "3. The increasing trend to bloc voting.
- "4. An expanding tendency to interfere in the internal affairs of member nations.
- "5. Unwillingness of many of the eighty members to equitably share the monetary costs and other obligations of the United Nations and its related activities while insisting on a full and equal voice in the making of decisions, the burdens of which must be assumed by others."

To these I should like to add a sixth, namely, that delegates to that body have come to believe that the United Nations Organization represents something distinct and separate from its members, whereas it is only as effective as the members, the principal members permit it to be.

The veto, which was first proposed by the United States, has turned out to have been an error. Soviet Russia has employed it 80 times, France, four times, Great Britain twice, China once, and the United States never. Five nations only may use the veto. Of these five, the proportion is Soviet Russia—80; the other four nations seven. Obviously this represents an abuse and a disproportion.

But there is a further abuse in the fact that there are 80 member-states of the United Nations. Of these 80, 75 may never veto a measure, but five have used the veto 87 times and one of them 80 times. The proposition has neither logic nor consistency and must be put down to a mistake.

The Charter of the United Nations can be amended by a two-thirds vote. As the United Nations is now constituted, it is not believed that an amendment to the Charter could gather a two-thirds affirmative vote. Therefore no amendments have been proposed and Soviet Russia can destroy any reconstructive measure by the use of the veto.

The Double Standard of Morality may be a characteristic of Machiavellian politics. Knowland makes the point:

"The Afro-Asian Bloc voted for prompt action against the British, French and Israeli aggression in Egypt and time after time abstained from voting on the several resolutions relative to Soviet aggression against the people of Hungary."

Perhaps a sharper example is Nehru's imperialism in Kashmir while he is attacking the British and French for their imperialism. Nehru has won a reputation as an idealist, a man of high morality. Actually, he is a politician who functions the same as other politicians with a patina of Gandhism which is essential in his particular country. The Double Standard of Morality can wreck the United Nations because it can make it nothing more than a pragmatic bazaar for international deals.

It is because of this tendency to make a bazaar out of the United Nations that bloc voting developed. For this, all the great powers are responsible. Stalin foresaw the technical advantage of this system and tried to get Roosevelt, at Yalta, to accept all the member republics of the Soviet Union as U.N. members. However, he did manage to get three votes, Russia, the Ukraine and White Russia (Byelorussia).

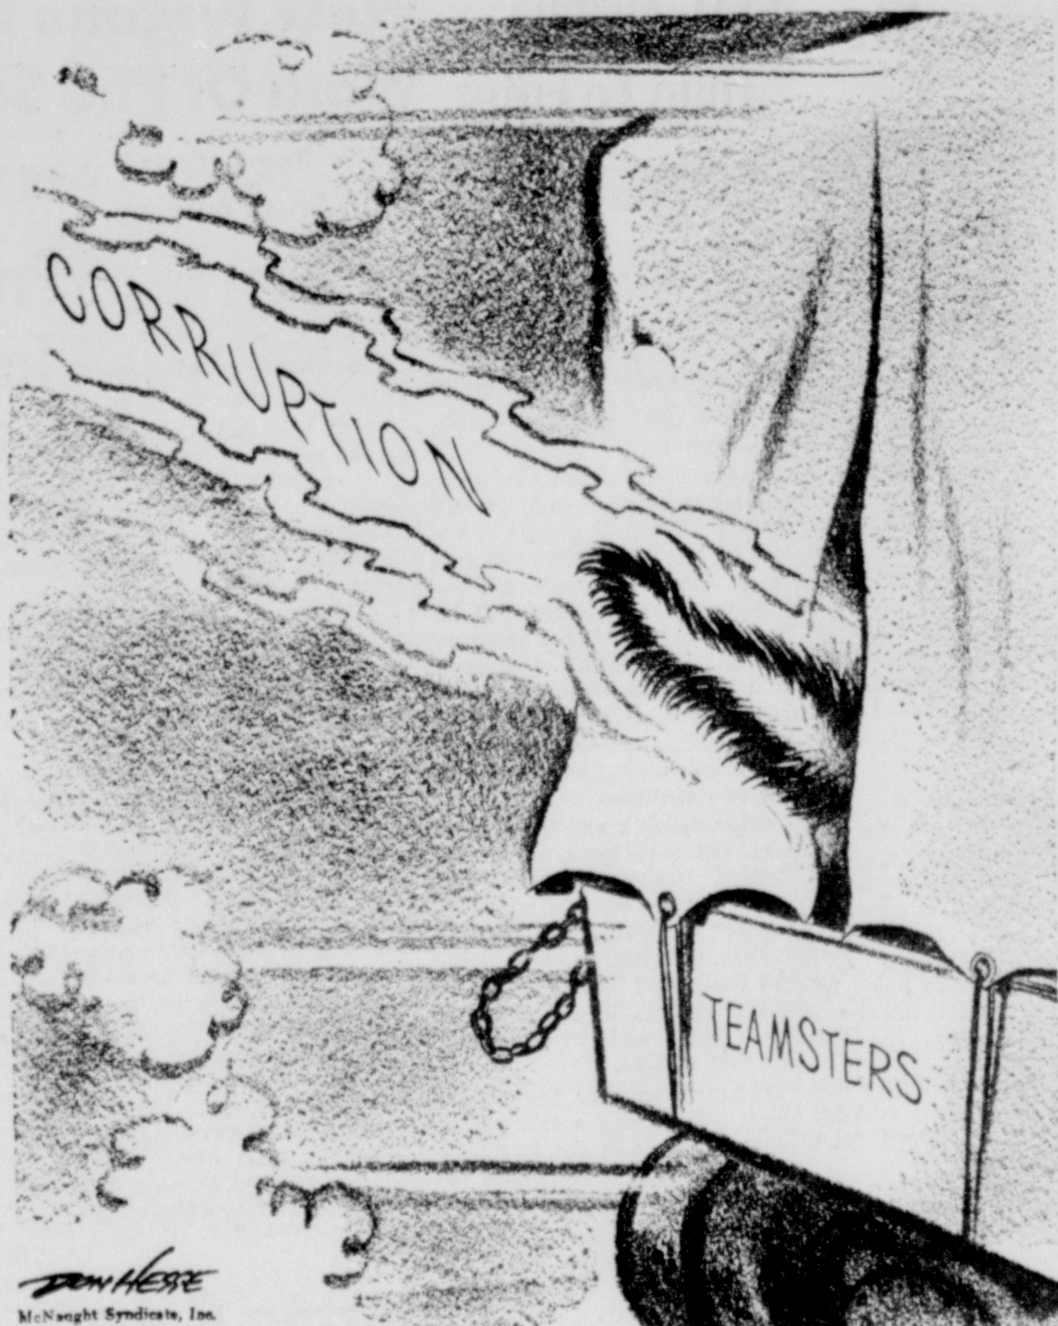

The Afro-Asian Bloc, organized at the Bandung Conference, really consists of the newly liberated countries led by India. It is a dangerous bloc because it is entirely pragmatic and disregards all principles of international comity. Some of these countries, however, could not quite accept the Soviet brutality in Hungary and with regard to this one instance broke away from the iron-clad contract to stand together.

It would appear that the smaller countries do not fear war as much as the great powers do. In the first place, once a war became general, the great powers would become involved and would do the fighting. Secondly, a large profit can be made out of the great powers, as enormous profits have been made out of neutralism, the two major powers paying an enormous price for friendship and allegiance.

The United States pays approximately one-third of the total cost of the United Nations. The other 79 nations pay two-thirds. Of these, some pay very little; others evade payments. Some pay in their own currencies which are worth little or nothing.

Having A Hard Time Hiding That Cargo

Court May Have Overstepped In Clinton Case

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON—It is a matter of news importance when the American Civil Liberties Union, known for its persistent defense of "liberal" causes, criticizes a federal court injunction in a "desegregation" case.

After the Supreme Court of the United States issued its order throwing out state laws that permitted segregation, the school authorities of Clinton, Tenn., interpreted this to mean they had to bring about a forced association of the races and they complied with the court's order. But various people in the town spoke in criticism and some of them allegedly attempted to interfere with the school board's operation. A riot took place near the school grounds, which should have been handled by local police under state laws. But the federal judge issued an injunction of such broad scope that the Department of Justice arrested 16 citizens and made them defendants on the ground that they had engaged in a conspiracy to violate the injunction. Some of them had merely criticized the injunction and the court decision. Others happened to witness the disturbance. One of them merely offered bail for a defendant and was promptly arrested as a co-conspirator.

"Mere advocacy, in the Clinton Case," says the American Civil Liberties Union statement, "urging the ignoring of the law or judicial orders, should not be prohibited. As we said at the beginning of this statement, the ACLU supports the Supreme Court decision and urges all citizens to obey it. But if some citizens choose to oppose the decision by peaceful means, through speech, they have the constitutional right to do so. Mere picketing to express a point of view, in the absence of intimidation, should not be enjoined. So we believe the blanket prohibition against picketing of the Clinton High School is invalid. Without direct incitement to definite acts of individual or joint obstructiveness or interference, coupled with a clear and present danger that these acts will take place immediately, the injunction is too broad and interferes with free speech.

"However, the prohibition in the injunction as to overt acts of 'hindering' or 'obstructing' the integration order is different. Such overt acts cannot claim the protection of free speech. Whether or not such acts have occurred is a matter of proof to be determined at the contempt hearing."

This correspondent a few weeks ago called attention to this very defect in the court's injunction and also to the unlawful usurpation by a federal court of a duty and task that should be performed by local police agencies and state law. There is no evidence that the persons arrested exercised any interference whatsoever on the school board or attempted to interfere with its operations in bringing about a forced association of pupils. All that the citizens did was to criticize the injunction and the Supreme Court decision. When an altercation occurred some distance from the school building, it was certainly a usurpation of authority for a federal court to attempt to apply an injunction to every citizen in the school district as to what he might say in his own home to his friends in criticism of forced association in the schools.

There are some rumors that

How To Work Yourself To Death In A Hurry

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Several months ago I received the following letter:

"What procedure would you recommend to get a 65 year old man to a doctor? He has periodic bouts of stomach trouble over the year, which he preferred to let run their course. About five years ago he had such a severe siege he went to a doctor, had X-rays, and a thorough examination. The diagnosis was ulcer but he took only a few doses of the prescribed medicine and let the attack run its course as usual."

The letter then told of recent symptoms such as vomiting and severe abdominal pain, continuing:

"Naturally, the family is much concerned about his condition and would like him to see a doctor, which he refuses to do. His work requires him to drive about 80 miles a day, and being near retirement age he doesn't want out. His work is exacting and at this time of the year they are busy."

We answered this letter, making several suggestions. A week or so later we received a second letter. It read:

"Thank you for your reply, but we were too little and too late. The patient continued to be violently ill and a doctor was called without his knowledge. The physician wanted him to go to the hospital that night but the man tried to bargain for two more weeks to fill out a year's perfect attendance for a bonus and an extra week's vacation.

"They compromised on his going in the next day after he delivered some work that only he could do."

The rest of the letter was a familiar story. The man entered the hospital but it was too late. "The great pity is that a fine, brilliant, and intelligent fellow is lost to his family and to himself because he thought he could beat the rap."

This is life and explains why some people call it a gamble. A smart person should realize that no one is indispensable. It has been demonstrated repeatedly that it never pays to "die for dear old Rutgers."

I admire the man who pours his heart and soul into his business, when it does not interfere with his health and home life. He must get tremendous satisfaction from what he is doing. But when it affects his health, even to the point of death, few are treated as heroes. The only posthumous attention the majority get is: "Too bad about Charlie. Hard worker. Have they announced who is going to take his place?"

Rivals To Teamsters Hope To Win Back Their Power In Portland

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — Sen. McClellan's Investigating Committee is doing an important job of exposing teamster racketeering, some of it, incidentally, reported by this column beginning April 30, 1956. However, the Senators aren't giving the full story on the Portland, Ore., underworld.

When McClellan called big, gum-chewing Jim Elkins as his prize witness, it was known that Elkins had something of an underworld history, but it wasn't known how much of a history, nor was it mentioned that he is out to elect city Councilman Stanley Earl as next mayor of Portland.

Big Jim is also bent on retaliation against the elements that knocked him out of the pinball racket, namely the teamsters. They deserve retaliation. But one untold slight is that Big Jim and his friend Stanley Earl would not be averse to using the McClellan hearings as a publicity megaphone to help take control of the city of Portland.

Earl, now a city Councilman, is assuming the role of a reformer. Truth is, the city Councilman began his career as a bouncer in one of the Elkins brothers' after-hours joints, once was jailed for strong-arm tactics in union activities, Oct. 8, 1942 in Spokane; and wrote a strong letter trying to get a pardon for Big Jim Elkins after Elkins was thrown into an Arizona jail for assault with intent to kill.

This is the man who is helping turn the spotlight on the teamsters. They deserve the spotlight. But so does the other side. And here is the further record of the other man, Big Jim Elkins, who is exposing the teamsters and who wants to make his pal, Stanley Earl, mayor of Portland.

A Sordid Record
The Senate Committee treated Elkins gently, making only hurried reference to his sordid background. The fact is that he has a three-page record for everything from attempted murder to dope smuggling. His first rap was for stealing a car back in 1920. Later he branched out into burglary and dope smuggling. Federal agents picked him up in 1932 for attempting to smuggle heroin into the country. While out under bail, he was surprised by police in the act of burglarizing a warehouse in Gila County, Ariz. Elkins and his accomplice shot their way out of the police trap but were captured two hours later. Elkins got a 20-30 year term for assault with intent to kill, was paroled in 1936, but promptly tossed back in the clink for getting mixed up with a gang of warehouse thieves. The next year, he was released into the custody of his brother, Fred, on the pledge he would keep out of Arizona.

Big Jim went to Oregon, where he was arrested for armed robbery involving the removal of slot machines. This ended in a gun fight with the intended victims, and Elkins was wounded in the shoulder. At the trial, the witnesses against him failed to show up. One was quoted in the newspapers as saying, "I was run out of Portland at the point of a gun."

On Sept. 11, 1938, Elkins picked up a shipment of heroin at the Portland Railway Express depot, after which federal agents picked him up. This landed him in Leavenworth, where he resided until 1940. Back in Portland, he resumed his underworld activities.

Would Legalize Pinballs
Big Jim is now under indictment on a long list of counts for alleged wire-tapping and underworld activity.

Of all Elkins' connections, the big untold story is his tie with city Councilman Stanley Earl. This is the part the Senate Committee isn't telling about in its probe into Portland racketeering.

The two men have been close for years. Starting as a bouncer for the Elkins brothers, Earl worked his way up in the CIO, was sent to Korea as a U. S. labor representative, got back before the Korean War, began devoting himself to Portland politics and was elected to the city Council in 1952.

At the time of Earl's election, his friend Big Jim Elkins bossed Portland's pinball industry, along with other underworld enterprises. Pinball machines were supposed to be illegal, and one of Earl's first acts after becoming Councilman was to propose legal pinball machines.

Teamsters Move In
Meanwhile, the teamsters began moving in. Their excuse was a drive to organize workers who handled pinballs. This Elkins saw as a move to squeeze him out, and at first he tried to make a deal. He even applied for membership in the teamsters. But he was turned down, and the union notified him that if he persisted in operating his machines, it would put him on the unfair list.

This amounted to an ultimatum to Big Jim to get out and sell his machines to someone the teamsters would accept. He bowed. His machines were sold to Stan Terry, Veral Wright, and Lou Dunis.

But lo and behold, no sooner had Big Jim quit the pinball business than his friend Councilman Earl came out against them. With sudden righteousness, he attacked pinballs as a vicious gambling device.

Big Jim tried to go into the punchboard business. A short time thereafter, Councilman Earl introduced an ordinance to modify the ban on punchboards.

This is part of the other side of the coin brought out at Senator McClellan's very important hearings. A future column will report how Councilman Earl claimed this column was tampering with government witnesses.

Information Please

By Brother Barnabas

The clerk at the Information Desk gets all sorts of inquiries and requests.

If it's at a railway station or an airport: "When is the next Limited to Reno?" or "When do I get that de luxe plane to Bolivia?"

At a hotel: "Will you please page Willie Wanderlust? His wife has just been shot — with gamma globulin."

"To settle a bet, will you please tell me, was it before or after Patrick Henry was married that he said 'Give me liberty, or give me death?'"

Ask of a group of bystanders the road to Mandalay, and they will all speak at once, and in the confusion you will not get what you asked for.

In a group of a dozen, perhaps one will know the right answer, the rest will only guess, yet the guessers are the most voluble.

"What is electricity?" a science teacher put to his class. One sleepy-head answered, "I knew once but I have forgotten."

"What a pity," said the quizzier, "that the only person who ever knew has forgotten."

In the Israeli-Egyptian impasse we have heard a great deal about "sanctions." And some people who don't know a sanction from a martini have been very dogmatic about it.

Applying a sanction, as I see it, is tantamount to a father saying to his twelve-year-old son, "Now, you do as I say, or else."

The "else" is the sanction. It might be withholding his allowance; it could be a spanking.

It is better to know one thing that is so than a dozen things that are not so.

Guideposts along the roadside, bureaus of information here and there testify to man's incapacity to know everything. He should feel no compunction in saying "I don't know" when in doubt, rather than stalling to save his pride, especially when misinformation might incommode another.

Man is by nature a personalized interrogation point, and that native urge should never be stifled. Period.

The old saying, "Where ignorance is bliss, 'tis folly to be wise" has more than one interpretation. Canny co-eds in college place no premium on ignorance of the shortcomings of the young blades with social aspirations.

They have a "form sheet" listing each name, with annotations growing out of previous experience.

One is marked of "low caloric diet," meaning "small allowance from home." "Bring your dowry" is advice when dating a weak spender.

On the other hand, some of the most "blissful" people in the world are circumscribed by walls of ignorance. A deficiency may be an advantage.

A man lost in a pea-soup fog in London is led to his hotel by a blind man.

Edison, stone deaf, gloried in his infirmity because he was left free from the distractions of the world about him.

Pasteur was a paralytic. Beethoven was deaf. Robert Louis Stevenson was bedridden under his counterpane.

If I'm not mistaken, Alexander Pope had to be swathed with gunny cloth to hold his frail body together while he wrote his immortal verse.

Milton was blind, yet a hundred men with good eyes would listen all night while he shared with them his powers of sight. Truly, insight is better than sight.

One should not boast of his ignorance or ape the frailties of the "Who-dunits."

Being a poor speller won't make him another Chaucer, who "rudent spel." Signing his name with a scrawl won't make him a bank cashier.

Being in one's cups won't make him an Edgar Allan Poe, or a Bobbie Burns.

W.Va. Senate Acts Today On Civil Service

Move To Override Governor's Veto

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 1 (AP)—The thorny Civil Service question was still hanging fire in the Legislature today.

The issue rests squarely in the Senate, where Gov. Underwood's veto of the bill to extend Merit System Council coverage to state jobholders generally was delivered last weekend.

The Senate has been sidestepping the question from day to day all week, and once more postponed action until 11:05 a.m. tomorrow, making the matter of overriding the veto a special order of business for that hour. The Senate meets tomorrow at 11 a.m.

House Democrats considered the matter at a secret caucus lasting one hour and 10 minutes immediately after that chamber went into session at 1:30 today.

It was understood unofficially after the caucus that members were not bound, indicating that the Democratic leadership feels secure enough to override the veto if the Senate acts and sends the measure over there for re-passage.

Word went around that the Senate Democratic majority may caucus on the question some time tomorrow. So far, there has been only one publicly announced defection from the solid Democratic front which passed the original passage. Sen. John Chenoweth (D-Randolph) has said that while he voted for it originally, he would not vote to override Underwood's veto.

Preston County Seeks Three For Holdups

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP)—Three men were sought in a holdup and attempted robbery in Preston County Wednesday night.

Preston County authorities expressed belief the same trio was involved in both incidents.

Inman's store in Howesville was held up and robbed of $53 cash, six cartons of cigarettes and a box of candy.

A short while later, police said, the same three men tried to break into the Clover Farm store at Newburg, about eight miles from Howesville.

Officers in neighboring Maryland counties were alerted and are assisting in the search.

Frostburg Man Earns US Navy Commission

FROSTBURG—Ronald L. Ruffo, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Ruffo, 64 Ormond Street, Frostburg, has completed his assigned courses at the United States Naval Officers Training School at Newport, R. I., and received his commission as an Ensign yesterday at a ceremony which was attended by his mother and his fiancée, Miss June Mowbray, of Barton.

Ruffo graduated from LaSalle with the class of 1951 and received his BS Degree from Frostburg State Teachers College in 1953. He was a member of the United States Naval Reserve while attending college. He then accepted a position teaching at Suitland Junior High School, Suitland, Md. and while there, attended the Naval Personnel School at Washington, D. C.

Ruffo expects to receive a further training assignment as Aviation Ground Officer at Jacksonville, Fla.

PHS Thespians Will Stage Play March 7

PIEDMONT — The Thespian group of Piedmont High School will present a play, "Ruffles and Roller Skates" in the school auditorium, March 7, at 8 p.m.

The action of the play takes place in the comfortable lived-in living room of the Baxter's. The time is shortly before dinner time. It is a comedy about teenagers and their long-suffering parents. Mrs. Baxter tries to rear her children by the book, but in the end it's "Father Knows Best."

Those taking part include: Leah Rae Ross, Elizabeth Baxter, mother; Anne Drane, Frances Waterman, Elizabeth's friend; Laura Tribbets, Sue Baxter; Carolyn Harr, Judy Brink, Sue's friend; Kenneth Miller, Ed Baxter, father; Kenneth Knotts, John "Dub" Baxter; and Robert Arnold, Freddie Johnson, Sue's date.

Mrs. T. L. Bright is sponsor of the club.

Barton Church Marks Birthday

BARTON — The Barton Methodist Church held a birthday party at the church with proceeds going to the church kitchen fund.

A history of the church was read by J. Irvin Martin. The program featured vocal selections and group singing of "Happy Birthday." Baked goods, candy, fancy work and parcel post boxes were sold.

Vocal selections included a duet by Wendell Metz and Charles Meese; trio singing by Ruth Deniker, Betty Lou Preston and Shirley Snyder, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Doris Mitchell. Norma Metz and Mae Smith sang a duet accompanied by Helen Kyle, pianist, and Norma Metz, Mae Smith and Helen Kyle also sang a trio number.

Trumpet selections were played by William Dye and a piano solo was offered by Wendell Metz. Cecil Metz rendered a comic reading.

FSTC Drama Group To Enter Competition

FROSTBURG — The third annual "College Variety Night" sponsored by the Pegasus Club of Fairchild Aircraft Company of Hagerstown will be held in the Franklin Court auditorium there on March 1.

Twelve colleges will send their top talent to participate in this contest which will consist of vocal, instrumental, dance and dramatic numbers. Frostburg State Teachers College entry will be a scene from "Abe Lincoln in Illinois," by Robert C. Sherwood, with Arthur Huggles, Frostburg as Abe Lincoln; James Rankin, Westernport as Seth Gale and Sarah Slick, Smithsburg, in the role of Aggie.

Other colleges and universities who will participate are: Hood College, Western Maryland College, Bridgewater College, University of Maryland, Goucher College, Gettysburg College, Howard University, Shepherd College, Wilson College, Hagerstown Junior College and Franklin and Marshall College.

Entertainment for the participants will include a tour of the plant, luncheon in the foreman's room followed by rehearsals before the presentations.

Miss Dorothy Stone White, director of drama at State will accompany The Little Theatre Group on the trip.

Baptist Men Form Unit In Brotherhood

FROSTBURG — A "Brotherhood," affiliated with the Brotherhood of the Southern Baptist Convention, was organized and officers elected at a meeting held in the First English Baptist Church Thursday evening.

Rev. E. Wood Settle, pastor of the church, presided and presented the report of the nominating committee which was accepted as follows: Stanley Eisel, president; James B. Elias, membership vice-president; Howard F. Ward, program vice-president; Harry Fuller, activities vice-president; Melvin R. Ward, secretary-treasurer and James Al derton, song leader.

The purpose of this south-west organization for men of Baptist churches is to promote Christian education, Christian homes, missions, stewardship and the sponsoring of the Royal Ambassadors, a youth organization dedicated to studying the lives of missionaries and conducting a clean recreational program.

The next meeting will be held in the latter part of March with Jack Beck, formerly of Cumberland, and now affiliated with the Maryland Baptist headquarters in Baltimore in charge of Brotherhood work, as the speaker. The group will meet thereafter on the second Thursday of each month.

Jack Bahen's Basket Wins Game, 65-63

Explorers Capture Finale; Johnson Scores 30 Points

A field goal by Jack Bahen five seconds before the final whistle was the margin of victory as Coach George Geatz's Explorers lowered the curtain on the 1956-57 basketball season with a 65-63 triumph over the Campers of Allegany High School last night at S.S. Peter and Paul gym.

Allegany had clinched the city championship prior to last night's game by defeating Fort Hill twice and LaSalle once. The Campers whipped LaSalle earlier in the campaign by the score of 76-58.

The score was tied ten times in last night's thriller at 1, 2, 6, 16, 20, 24, 26, 32, 39 and 63. Carl Brown's field goal knotted the count for the last time.

Charles "Chazz" Imes sparked LaSalle's scoring with 20 points. Richard Garlitz had 14 and Jim Tennent 10. Kenny Johnson, the city's leading scorer finished the campaign with a total of 460 points by ringing up 30 last night on 11 field goals and 8-12 fouls.

Richard Winfield of LaSalle was the only player who fouled out. Lineups:

Tar Heels Win Over Duke, 86-72

DURHAM, N.C., March 1 (AP) — Top-ranked North Carolina made it 24 straight wins and wound up its regular season undefeated by whipping bitter rival Duke, 86-72, in an Atlantic Coast Conference basketball game tonight.

A frenzied capacity crowd of 9,000 in Duke Indoor Stadium saw the Tar Heels hang on grimly and Duke go ahead briefly in the final period after North Carolina led, 47-35, at the half.

North Carolina's ace forward Lennie Rosenbly staged one of the finest performances of his career as he ended his regular season college play for the Tar Heels. Limber Lennie pumped in a total of 40 points.

Bill Hartack Sets Record At Hialeah

MIAMI, Fla., March 1 (AP) — Willie Hartack, the remarkable 23-year-old saddle star, set a new record at Hialeah Park when he notched his 56th, 57th and 58th winners of the meeting.

Hartack broke his own mark of 55 set at the local track in 1956. Willie's winners were Snobbish in the fifth, Salmon in the sixth and Skipper Bill in the seventh.

Mt. St. Mary's Wins, Sullivan Gets 33

PHILADELPHIA, March 1 (AP) — Little Mt. St. Mary's College romped to its 16th consecutive win tonight as forward Jack Sullivan got 33 points in an 86-70 win over Villanova at The Palestra.

Temple and St. Bonaventure met in the second game of a basketball doubleheader.

The Maryland school, which has been selected to play in the NCAA small college tournament, showed little awe of its bigger opponent as it took the lead midway in the first half and added to it the rest of the way.

Sullivan, with a season average of about 32 points, had his jump shot working to perfection as Mt. St. Mary's won their 20th game against four losses. Burt Sheing, sophomore guard, had 23 points and 6-7 junior Billy Williams added 18.

Mountaineers Win

WASHINGTON, March 1 (AP) — West Virginia, playing without Rod Hundley, stumbled to a 77-75 victory tonight over surprisingly rugged George Washington to finish its regular season undefeated in the Southern Conference.

Hundley, running a high temperature caused by a virus infection, couldn't make the trip from Morgantown.

West Virginia Scraps 4 Per Cent Racing Rule

Commission Must Approve Purses

CHARLESTON, W. Va., March 1 (AP) — The Racing Commission scrapped today its controversial rule which required horse tracks in West Virginia to pay purses of at least 4 per cent of the daily pari-mutuel take.

"The amount of purses within reasonable limits is a matter for negotiation between the horsemen and the track owner," the new commission recently appointed by Gov. Underwood said in revising its Rule 61.

The revised rule, which goes into effect in 30 days, simply requires commission approval of the amounts of prize money on which horsemen and track operators agree. Tracks still must submit proposed purses and other conditions to the commission at least 30 days before the meetings begin.

The 4 per cent rule went into effect last June. It changed the former minimums of $900 for tracks less than a mile in length.

The old commission under Gov. Marland spent most of its remaining meetings after June arguing about the 4 per cent rule.

It turned down Charles Town's application for December dates because the track would not agree to the 4 per cent purses.

In January, the commission changed its mind and granted winter race dates to Charles Town, agreeing not to enforce the 4 per cent for the meeting.

Beagle Club Holds Derby Trial Sunday

Place Hounds To Vie At South Fork, Pa.

The Allegany Beagle Club will stage a Derby Trial Sunday at the Barton Dairy Farm, McMullen Highway.

Four place hounds in each division will qualify for the winners' Stake of the Penn Central Association to be held at the Cambria Beagle Club, South Fork, Pa., April 13-14. The Allegany Beagle Club is among the seven clubs in the Penn Central Association.

Kayo's Queen, owned by K. O. Nelson, of Pinto, won in the 15 inch class in the Penn Central Winners' Stake last year. Hinkle's Ranger, owned by Jim Hinkle of the local club, earned reserve honors in the same division in the 1956 event at Carrollton, Cambria county, Pa.

Tomorrow the 13 inch hounds will be drawn at 8 a. m., and the 15 inch entries will be drawn at 1 p. m.

Ivan Rhoads, of St. Michael, Pa., will judge the events and will be assisted by a member of the local organization.

Old Sea Dog

Scores Second

Win At Bowie

BOWIE, Md., March 1 (AP)

Formful racing was the description for today's program at Bowie Race Course. One of the smallest crowds of the meeting watched five favorites score in the first six races.

The only upset came in the featured Easton Purse, fifth race. Old Sea Dog, owned by David A. Livingston, outran his rivals to win easily at the sizable odds of $10.80 to $2.

Outbreaking his field, Old Sea Dog continued in a smooth stride despite the ankle deep mud and won by a fourth lengths from Mrs. Jack M. Lingle's Lord Jeep, the choice. Brandywine Stable's Devilish was third.

Old Sea Dog made the track appear almost fast, posting the time of 1:05 4/5 for the 5 1/2 furlong race. It was his second win of the season.

Before the program opened, the stewards announced that Jockey David Gorman, a leading rider throughout Maryland's fall season, is suspended for ten days, beginning Monday, for failing to keep his mount from drifting out in the fifth race yesterday.

Cards of Thanks
We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to our relatives, friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and sympathy at the time of the death of our husband and father, Earl P. Lepley. We also wish to thank F. B. Kirschner for his comforting words, those who sent flowers, tributes and cards, those who donated the use of their cars for the funeral, and to all others who in any manner rendered assistance. We are indeed grateful.
Mrs. Earl P. Lepley and Family.

Council To Get Briefing On Hospital Issue

Order May Leave Sacred Heart

Mayor Roy W. Eves said last night he has briefed officials of Memorial Hospital and will report to the City Council Monday on the possibility that the Daughters of Charity may withdraw from the operation of Sacred Heart Hospital.

He said he will also inform Allegany County officials of the situation.

Mayor Eves said he has been assured that any action taken by the order will not be detrimental to the city and area, and not until facilities are provided to meet the needs of this area.

The possibilities, he said, include the construction of a new hospital, modernization of the present hospital, an addition to Memorial Hospital or operation by another order.

The contingency was indicated by Very Rev. Francis C. Dodd, director of the Daughters of Charity, Emmitsburg, at a meeting earlier this week with Mayor Roy W. Eves in which attention was called to problems confronting the Sisters in the local operation.

Father Dodd's talk with the mayor was to give some time for consideration of what the city and county might do, either to provide a new hospital or face the closing of Sacred Heart.

Closing the hospital would deprive the area of 135 beds, a situation that Memorial Hospital would be unable, under present circumstances, to care for.

A new hospital, built to the standards of the Daughters of Charity in the larger cities, would cost at least $4,000,000, it was said.

Father Dodd stated yesterday it is not the desire of the Daughters of Charity to withdraw from Cumberland, but that the order is not in a position to provide additional finances for the local facility in keeping with operations in other cities, all of them larger than Cumberland.

The purpose of the conference with Mayor Eves, Father Dodd added, was to advise the city and area of the situation so that residents of the section might have time to make necessary provisions to meet the hospital bed situation that would develop as a result of the withdrawal of the Daughters of Charity.

St. Matthew's Lenten-Easter Plans Listed

The Lenten-Easter schedule of services at St. Matthew's Evangelical and Reformed Church has been announced by Rev. John B. Zinn, pastor.

Sermons on Sunday during Lent will be based on the theme, "Behold the Man." Sunday, March 10, the sermon will be "His Face"; March 17, "His Eyes"; March 24, "His Mouth"; March 31, "His Hands"; and April 7, "His Feet."

Wednesday evenings in Lent the theme of Rev. Mr. Zinn's sermons will be "Faces About the Cross"—March 6 Ash Wednesday "Judas"; March 13 "Peter"; March 20 "Caiaphas"; March 27 "Pilate"; April 3 "Barabbas"; April 10 "Simon of Cyrene"; and April 17 "Mary."

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated on Ash Wednesday, April 18 Maundy Thursday and April 21, Easter.

The Rite of Confirmation will be held on Palm Sunday, April 14 and the sermon subject will be: "The Man on the Donkey." Good Friday, April 19 sermon: "The Sins that Crucified Jesus." Maundy Thursday, April 18 "An Upper Room," Easter Day "Man Alive!"

On April 2, the Brotherhood of St. Matthew's will sponsor the showing of "The King of Kings" at the church. This showing is open to the public. March 5, a Holy Communion service for churchmen will be celebrated at St. Matthew's for the men of the Evangelical and Reformed churches in the area.

Rev. William R. Snyder pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, Cumberland will be the guest preacher. His subject, "Hate Hurts You!"

Births

Memorial Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth A. Cooper, 903 Harding Avenue, a daughter yesterday.

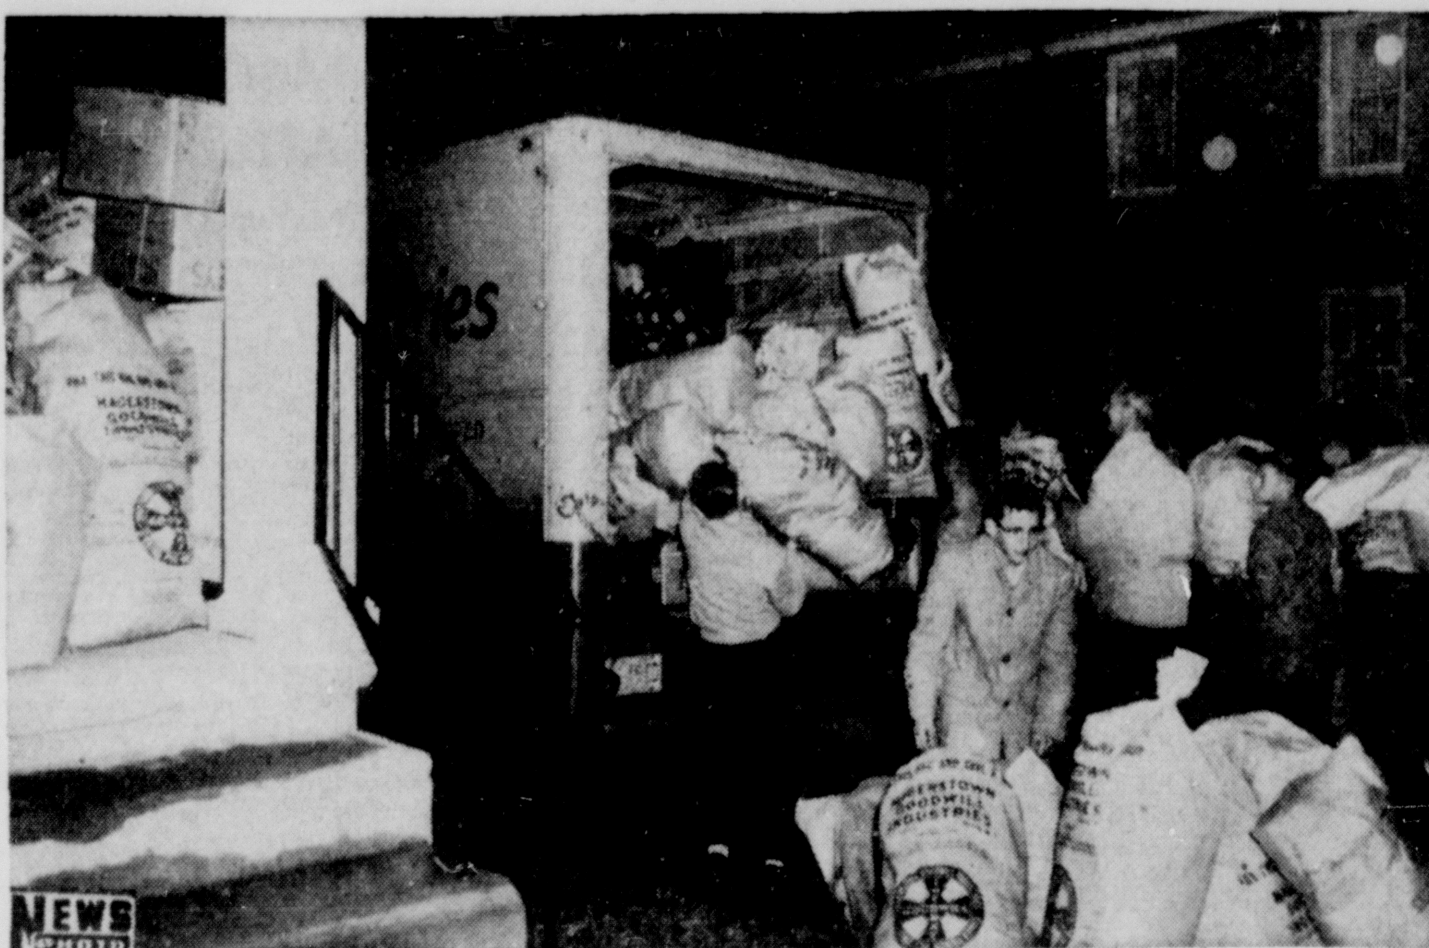

Mr. and Mrs. Howard W. Myers, Hyndman, Pa., a son yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. William R. Rader, 5 North Waverly Terrace, a daughter yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Mason, RFD 1, a son Thursday.

County Bill Enacted

The House yesterday enacted Senate Bill 311, sponsored by Senator Charles M. See, which repeals obsolete laws relating to the boundary between Allegany and Garrett Counties.

Plenty Of Contributions

Some 500 bags of contributions were donated to the Goodwill Industries of Hagerstown Thursday night at a Methodist Youth Fellowship rally attended by some 200 young people, counselors and pastors of the Cumberland Subdistrict at the LaVale Methodist Church. The 62 handicapped persons working for Goodwill industries in Hagerstown will be kept busy repairing the items in the 500 bags. The picture shows some of the young Methodists loading bags onto the Goodwill Industries' truck for transportation to Hagerstown. Each bag was filled with repairable discarded clothing, shoes, household textiles.

Flood Control Pumping Unit Job Progresses

The Cumberland-Ridgeley flood protection program is moving along in spite of unfavorable weather and high water which have hampered operations over the winter.

The newest progress reported is that excavation for the Mill Race Pumping Station, one of three needed for the $18,000,000 project, is about down to grade.

Crews of the E. J. Albrecht Company, Chicago, will begin soon to pour the foundation for the structure which will be used to pump storm water over flood protection structures when high water hits.

Rapid strides are being made by Hazelwood Construction Company crews on toe walls, slopes and vertical walls between the mouth of Wills Creek and the Baltimore Street Bridge.

The company, which holds the contract for Section 4 of the Wills Creek work, has been unable to make any real progress between the Baltimore and Market street bridges for weeks, due to high water.

Upstream, the Albrecht firm has had better luck, and has been putting up sloping and vertical walls and has been able to repair some of the damage to coffer dams the mid-December high waters.

The company is also progressing on pipe installation and related work at the upper end of North Mechanic Street.

The Albrecht firm was the only bidder on the final contract, Potomac River Section 2, when bids were opened by the Corps of Engineers recently.

No word has been received here on the awarding of the contract.

Truck Testing Bill Is Signed

ANNAPOLIS, March 1 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin signed into law today a bill which will prevent testing of trucks on Maryland highways without permission of the State Roads Commission.

The legislation grew out of the use of U.S. 40 in Western Maryland as a "mountain testing ground" for truck manufacturers. Residents of the Cumberland area complained it caused a traffic hazard and beat up a highway already in need for repair.

In the future, firms will be required to obtain a permit from the State Roads Commission for $25 per vehicle and the SRC will designate the highway and time where such tests would be permitted.

Seminary Students To Present Play

"The Years Ahead," a play, will be presented this evening at the Second Baptist Church by students of the Southern Baptist Seminary of Louisville, Ky.

The program will begin at 7:30 p. m. when Mrs. James Kirkpatrick, Western District Woman's Mission Union superintendent, will extend the welcome.

A devotional will be in keeping with the 50th anniversary of the Young Women's Auxiliary, Miss Erleen Gaskin, youth secretary from Baltimore, will announce the youth activities and camping schedule next summer at Camp Womento, Rocks Mouth, near Bel Air.

A brief talk will be given by Dr. H. C. Goerner, professor of missions of the seminary. Next a piano and organ duet will be presented by Misses Betty Ruth Shelby of LaFayette, Tenn., and Priscilla Stone, Athens, Ga., music majors at the seminary.

Director of the play will be Donald Crapps of Columbia, S. C. The program is open to the public and a large attendance is anticipated.

Bridge Specifications Received By Chapman

Two bridges in the Georges Creek section will undergo extensive repair work and bids have been advertised by the State Roads Commission.

They are the Watercliff Bridge which spans the creek in Lonaconing opposite Central School building and the Morrison bridge located along the old Reynolds Road off State Route 36 near Barton.

J. Walker Chapman, county roads supervisor, reported yesterday at a meeting of the County Commissioners that revised plans and proposed repairs to the two bridges have been received.

He pointed out that steel stringers will replace wooden stringers on the Lonaconing bridge and that a steel deck and sidewalk similar to the Locust Grove bridge will be installed.

The steelwork under the Morrison bridge will be cleaned and painted and a metal deck built. The work will be done by the SRC before the county begins keeping up maintenance of the spans.

The original plans and specification on the bridge work did not get Chapman's approval and revised plans were drawn up and delivered to the roads supervisor who reported to the commissioners.

The bids will be opened on March 12 at the SRC office in Baltimore.

New Auto Tags Now Displayed

The new 1957 Maryland auto license plates are starting to put in their appearance on cars in the Cumberland area.

Around 2,000 residents of Allegany County already have purchased their tags at the Court House a month before the March 31 deadline.

Yesterday some 290 tags were sold at the office of the tax collector in the Court House. Motorists were allowed to attach the new tags yesterday, and may throw away the old ones or save them as collector's items.

Fire Damage Hits $54,500

Total damage of a raging fire that damaged seven buildings in the business district of Parsons, W. Va., Tuesday night was estimated yesterday at $54,500.

Chief John Kenney of the Parsons Volunteer Fire Company said the complete estimate of the damage was set yesterday afternoon by insurance adjusters.

A building owned by Leo H. Goss which housed an appliance store containing a new stock of television sets, deep freezes, stoves and refrigerators was termed a total loss. Damages to this structure totaled $46,000.

Six other buildings sustained lesser damage and the remaining $8,500 will be awarded to the property owners.

Chief Kenney said the cause of the fire has not been determined and the investigation is being continued.

Three Area Men Join Marine Corps

Three area men have enlisted in the US Marine Corps at the local recruiting station, according to T/Sgt. Clifton Shotwell, recruiter in charge.

Earl G. Bland, son of Mrs. Ada Philpot, RFD 1, Frostburg; Richard L. Miller, son of Mrs. Carrie Miller, 65 Blocker Street, Ridgeley; and Harold R. Harsh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Harsh, RFD 2, Oakland, have gone to Parris Island, S. C., for recruit training.

Miller and Bland enlisted for three and two years respectively, while Harsh, a graduate of Southern Garrett High School, volunteered for three years. Prior to enlistment he was employed with the telephone company in Baltimore as an installation man. C. Miller is a graduate of Ridgeley High School, and Bland is a graduate of Beall High School.

62 Art Entries Are Submitted For Area Show

The Cumberland Free Public Library was busy with activity last night as a large number of entries were taken there for display in the annual Tri-State Art Exhibit next month.

Miss Mary G. Walsh, librarian, said last night that 62 entries including 61 paintings and a piece of sculpture work are entered in the exhibit which will begin Monday and continue through March 18 at the library.

Mrs. Howard L. Briggs, general chairman for the project, said it is being sponsored by the Cumberland Branch, American Association of University Women.

William R. Stewart, art professor at Frostburg State Teachers College, will judge the entries.

Couple Sues For $20,000

A local couple is suing a Gramlich Road resident for $20,000 in two separate declarations filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court.

John W. Thomas and his wife, Marjorie D. Thomas, of 300 Independence Street, through their counsel, Earl E. Manges, have brought suit against George W. Kauffman.

The declarations stem from a two-car crash which occurred on September 15, 1956, near the intersection of Henderson Avenue and Valley Street in which Mrs. Thomas was injured and required medical, hospital and nursing services.

Mr. Thomas was driving a car owned by Samuel R. Merrill west on Henderson Avenue at the Valley Street intersection. The defendant who was also traveling in the same direction on the avenue rammed into the rear of the car driven by the plaintiff causing injuries to Mrs. Thomas.

She is suing for $10,000 for alleged painful and permanent injuries and resulting expenses. Her husband is suing for a similar amount contending he was denied the assistance of his wife for a long period of time and for the medical, hospital and nursing services.

Higher Temperatures Melt Snow And Sleet

Rising temperatures yesterday afternoon were instrumental in melting the snow and sleet which had fallen on area highways Thursday night and early yesterday morning.

But Ol' Man Winter is determined to hang on for a while. Today the skies are expected to be partly cloudy and windy weather is forecast except mostly cloudy with snow flurries in the mountains.

Maryland State Police said last night that highways east and west of Cumberland were clear. The temperature was expected to dip to the low 20s overnight.

Up to three inches of snow fell in the Cumberland-Frostburg area in the most recent winter storm to hit this section. Freezing rain changing to snow late Thursday night made highway traffic treacherous.

State Roads Commission crews were busy in Allegany and Garrett counties with cinderling chores in an effort to keep the motorists moving along the highways.

Injuries Fatal To Pennsylvania Road Worker

Struck By Trailer While Cinderling

An employee of the Pennsylvania Department of Highways died yesterday morning in Bedford Memorial Hospital of injuries he sustained while at work cinderling State Route 126 near Breezewood.

The victim, Robert W. Boden, 29, of Amaranth, driver of a state truck, had parked off the highway on the south side of Town Hill Mountain and got out of the truck.

A tractor-trailer traveling down the mountain apparently skidded when the driver, Hugh Melvin White, Middletown, Va., applied his brakes. The vehicle crossed the highway, jackknifed and crushed Mr. Boden between the trailer and the state truck.

Mr. Boden was taken to the Bedford hospital where he died at 6:55 a. m. of a crushed chest and pelvis.

Two other employees with Mr. Boden also were injured slightly. Donald Fisher of Amaranth, sustained possible fractured ribs, and Malcolm Whiteside, also of Amaranth, suffered a sprained neck and abrasions of the right thigh. Both men were admitted to Bedford Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Boden was born January 19, 1928, in Washington County, Md., and was a son of Frank T. and Emma (Robinson) Boden of RFD 1, Artemas, Pa.

Surviving, in addition to his parents, are his widow, Alice (Clingerman) Boden; four children, Linda, Wanda, Edna and George, all at home; five brothers, Van, Hagerstown; Bruce, Artemas; Merle and Paul, both of Napoleon, Ohio, and Ralph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Five sisters, Mrs. Mildred Snow, Hancock; Mrs. Leona Austermiller, Napoleon; Mrs. Grace Rebaric, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Ruth Spangler, Malinta, Ohio, and Miss Regina Boden, Artemas.

Services will be conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at Fairview Christian Church by Rev. Walter W. Twigg, pastor. Burial will be in the church cemetery.

The body is at the Conner Funeral Home at Everett and will be taken to the home of his parents near Fairview after 6 p. m. today.

Services For Lent Planned

The churches of the Union Grove Methodist Charge plan special services beginning next week, according to the minister, Rev. Louis L. Emerick.

A service will be held in the Centenary Church each Tuesday, Pleasant Grove each Wednesday, Zion Church each Thursday, and Elliott Church each Friday until Easter Sunday.

Rev. Emerick has chosen as his general theme for these services, "Come." Each week one of the invitations of Our Lord will be used. The general theme for the Sunday Lenten services will be "Life." The choirs of the churches will furnish special music.

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered during Holy Week and a special Good Friday service will be held in Zion Church from noon until 3 p. m. with seven ministers participating and using as their theme the "Seven Last Words" of Christ.

An Easter Sunrise service will be held at Elliott Church at 6:30 a. m. Worship services will be held at 9 a. m., 10 a. m. and 11 a. m. Reception of members will be held at these services. The Sacrament of Baptism will be administered on Palm Sunday and the Zion choir will present a cantata at 7:30 Palm Sunday.

Two Men Fined In Accident Case

Two men involved in a multiple crash on Route 40 in LaVale February 20 paid $26.45 fines on reckless driving yesterday but were found not guilty of driving "in a speed race or for a bet or wager."

Harry Glenn Twigg, RFD 1, and Richard E. Cox, Cresapton, were found guilty of the first charge at hearings yesterday morning in Trial Magistrates Court.

Magistrate Morris Baron ruled against the state on the second charge, saying there was nobody to testify the men completed the bet, or who saw the alleged race at the time of the accident which occurred about 3:30 a. m. about one mile west of the city limits.

Chest Collections Pass Halfway Mark

Receipts from pledges made in the 1956-57 Cumberland Community Chest campaign totaled $77,996 on February 1.

The receipts represented 52 per cent of all pledges made in the drive to finance nine Red Feather agencies.

The January financial report, approved at a recent Executive Board meeting, showed a cash balance of $44,103 on February 1.

January receipts totaled $6,809.92 and disbursements $11,107.25.

Crafts Will Meet

The Building and Construction Trades Council will meet Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the Allegany Labor Temple.

RETURNS — Rev. Reginald B. Stevenson, who was pastor of Holy Cross Episcopal Church here from 1917 until 1922, will return to Cumberland to conduct the regular services temporarily at Holy Cross and St. Philip's churches beginning tomorrow, Quinquagesima Sunday.

Pensions For Teachers Seen State Matter

Commissioners Issue Statement

County Commissioners William H. Lemmert and James Orr yesterday issued a joint statement in which they conclude that supplements to the teachers' annuity contribution to their total retirement pension is a state matter and not the responsibility of county taxpayers.

The legislative committee of the Allegany County Teachers' Association met with the county commissioners February 21 to ask their support of a bill to authorize supplements to the teachers' annuity contribution to their total retirement pension on a local basis.

Mr. Lemmert and Mr. Orr explain that this has come about because the annuity contribution of the individual teachers was not figured by the state actuary on an annual basis, so that their own contributions have not increased along with the increases in salary.

This has resulted in a retirement situation in which, when the annuity is added to the retirement benefits paid by the state, the total pension does not amount to one-half of the average salary during the five highest years.

"Is this a matter that should be passed on to the county taxpayer?" they ask. In Allegany County the taxpayers are already supplementing teachers' retirement benefits to the extent of between $18,000 and $19,000 a year, the commissioners note.

"Can we actually say that the teachers expected to get half of what their present salaries are, when they went into the system?" they further ask.

"This matter is being studied by the state and it would be presumptuous of Allegany County to jump out front and accept responsibility for it before we definitely know whether or not the state will take care of the deficiency. This same situation exists with respect to other state and county employees who are in the retirement system and would it be fair to make up the deficiency for only one group?"

"The only thought we had was the whole matter of retirement is administered by the state and if there has been an administrative mistake it is certainly not the responsibility of the county taxpayers," they conclude.

Celanese Promotes Arthur F. Happe

CHARLOTTE, N. C., March 1 (AP)—Arthur F. Happe of Charlotte has been appointed special assistant to the controller of Celanese Corp. of America, Celanese announced today.

Happe has been with the company more than 24 years. He was cost accountant and plant accountant at the company's Amcelle plant in Cumberland, Md. before coming here. He is a native of Ascot, Berkshire, England.

Succeeding him as controller of Celanese's textile division is William J. Redden. He was plant accountant at the Celco plant in Narrows, Va., before becoming assistant controller of the textile division. He has worked in the company's New York office and at the plastics installation in Newark, N. J.

Fourth Man Nabbed In Bad Check Case

A fourth man has been arrested by authorities on a charge of obtaining $92.65 from a local tavern keeper by passing a false and counterfeit check. He is David Marshall Gallagher, of Gilmore, who is in Allegany County jail.

The other three men involved are Glen Eugene Stouffer, Alfred Thomas Cannon and Raymond Thomas Gallagher, who were arrested earlier this week. The men are accused of cashing the check February 22 with the intent to defraud James Durkin, trading as Ruth's Tavern, 27 Williams Street.

Storm Tossed Rock Fish Bill Is Put On Ice

Action May Be Delayed Two Weeks

By GEORGE BOWEN

ANNAPOLIS March 1 (AP)—The storm-tossed bill to ban rock fishing for two months was put on ice today, probably for two weeks, by opportunist opponents in the House of Delegates.

The bill was pulled back from the House floor and recommitted to the Chesapeake Bay Committee by a rule-happy faction which took advantage of the absence of many supporters of a closed fishing season in January and February.

A majority of the committee is unfavorable to the idea and possibly can hold the bill for 15 days, when 15 delegates may petition it back. If it takes that long to reappear there will be only 13 legislative days left to try to struggle through the House and then the Senate.

After three days of stalling a vote on the bill, which is promoted by sports fishermen, opponents sensed this afternoon that strength of the other side was depleted through absenteeism.

Spot Empty Seats

Not only did they jump for the bait, but they started another brisk round of thumbing through the rule book and made sure the committee would keep a firm hold on the bill.

The opponents, led by the Eastern Shore boat fighting for their tactics of putting off a vote day-by-day. They had done this since Tuesday by simply offering an amendment and then invoking a mandatory rule that it be "studied" overnight.

But they went for the bigger game when they spotted many empty seats in the big Baltimore City delegation, where the drive for the fishing ban is heaviest.

Del. Stevens (D-Worcester) moved to send the bill back to committee.

"They got us," moaned one city delegate.

"They" did by a vote of 54-44. Del. Mach (D-Balto 2d) "served notice," however, that when the House reconvened Monday night he would move to reconsider the vote "when the boys who favor the bill will be here" and reinstate it in the House.

Battle Of Rules

The battle of the rules really started then.

The shore parliamentarians had another trick up their sleeve to offset Mach's, but the others tried a couple first.

The shore "lawyers" found that a motion to reconsider may be made only once. So they planned to make it while they had the votes.

The city "boys" got wind of it. Del. Meyers (D-Balto 6th) jumped up and moved to adjourn, a role reserved usually for Majority Leader Boone (D-Balto County). Meyers was backed by only 16 other delegates and the session continued.

Del. Bacharach (D-Balto 5th) then demanded that Speaker Luber (D-Balto 5th) invoke "Rule 10A." This authorizes the speaker "to compel the attendance of absent members."

Luber named several who were "excused" because of illness and "I can't compel them to attend if they're sick."

Defeat Own Motion

Del. Hatem (D-Harford) then made the motion to reconsider. And to add to the confusion, the opponents of the bill helped defeat their own motion, 60-32.

They didn't want the bill back, and accomplished their purpose of keeping it in the committee by exhausting the one reconsideration motion.

Even the reading clerk, Clarence W. Markland, was confused. He punched the third or final reading button instead of motion on the electrical voting machine in taking the roll call.

Some of the opponents gleefully thought the error would kill the bill. But Carl N. Everstine, director of the Legislative Reference Bureau, said it still could come back and go through the proper steps.

That is, if the Eastern Shore will let it. They can renew their string of daily amendments when the issue is joined again.

The bill came out of committee the first time with a 17-8 unfavorable report. The supporters rejected it with 66 votes, four more than necessary for passage, but weren't able to get to a vote on the bill itself.
